

Seal Beach Detention Center

Medical tests to be completed prior to admission to the Seal Beach Detention Center:

The following tests MUST be completed by your health care professional before you will be allowed to serve your time here at the Seal Beach Detention Center. These tests can be done by your own physician or at any clinic of your choosing. Be sure to schedule the tests within 2-3 weeks prior to your check-in date and allow enough time for the results to be returned to you. Submit your test results as soon as you receive them via fax or email prior to your check-in date for processing. All tests must be negative or within normal ranges or your entry may be denied. Failure to bring your test results will result in denial of entry into the facility.

- PPD for Tuberculosis (Taken and Read before check-in) Chest x-ray needed for prior positive tests. This means if you have ever had a positive test or have tested positive currently, you will need to have an x-ray taken and provide us with the diagnosis of the x-ray.
- RPR for STD
- CBC (complete blood count)
- H.I.V. test
- Hepatitis Panel
- Complete Physical Exam (including blood pressure)
- Lice Screening

Note: If you have severe medical problems or need a special diet due to your medical condition you must disclose that information to our staff during the interview process.
